

Treasury Department,

BUREAU OF THE MINT,

Washington, D. C., December 2, 1891.

The Superintendent, U. S. Mint,

Philadelphia, Pa.

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 1st inst., relative to the stock of quarter dollars, I would say that I do not think it wise to transfer any more uncurrent silver coins to the mint for recoinage until we get the new designs engraved and the dies prepared ready for striking the new coins at the commencement of the next calendar year.

The quantity of silver which you have on hand should be sufficient to supply the demand for new half-dollars, quarter-dollars and dimes, for the holiday season. Toward the close of this calendar year I will have additional uncurrent coins transferred to your mint for recoinage into new coins.

Very respectfully,

Director.

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 174

Treasury Department,
Bureau of the Mint,
Washington, D.C.
December 2, 1891

The Superintendent, U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 1st inst., relative to the stock of quarter dollars, I would say that I do not think it wise to transfer any more uncurrent silver coins to the mint for re-coinage until we get the new designs engraved and the dies prepared ready for striking the new coins at the commencement of the next calendar year.

The quantity of silver which you have on hand should be sufficient to supply the demand for new half-dollars, quarter-dollars and dimes, for the holiday season. Toward the close of this calendar year I will have additional uncurrent coins transferred to your mint for recoinage into new coins.

Very respectfully,
E.O. Leech
Director.